THE CONFERENCE

The International Conference “Junior Albanian Studies Days” is calling for paper submissions focusing on topics related to “BUILDING A MODERN FUTURE: Student Perspectives on Democracy, Education, Economy, Technology and Health”.

The world today stands at the crossroads of profound transformations, driven by forces such as digital innovation, shifting geopolitical alliances, climate challenges, demographic shifts, and evolving economic models. In this dynamic context, societies around the globe are reimagining the foundations of their future development. Central to this vision are the pillars of democracy, education, economy, technology, and health—critical domains that together shape the quality of life and opportunities for future generations.

TOPICS

According to conference panels the following topics are invited:

PANEL I

Economy towards digitalization and sustainability challenges.

PANEL II

Challenges of consolidating functional democracy and the rule of law in Albania.

PANEL III

Innovations and insights: Master's research in humanities, education and liberal arts in Albania.

PANEL IV

Advancing education in engineering, technology and architecture: Innovation, sustainability and digital transformation.

PANEL V

Health and holistic care
